The Liturgy of the Palms

The Sunday of the Passion c
Palm Sunday

Today's liturgy begins in triumph and ends in tragedy. It inaugurates Holy Week and points to the Triduum, the great Three Days, which begins with Maundy Thursday and ends with the Great Vigil of Easter. The Holy Week liturgies are really one long liturgy in separate acts. You are invited to experience these last days of Jesus' life by participating in all the Holy Week liturgies as fully as you are able.

READING Luke 19: 28-40

Gospeller A reading from the Gospel according to Luke.

Jesus went on ahead, going up to Jerusalem. When he had come near Bethphage and Bethany, at the place called the Mount of Olives, he sent two of the disciples, saying, "Go into the village ahead of you, and as you enter it you will find tied there a colt that has never been ridden. Untie it and bring it here. If anyone asks you, 'Why are you untying it?' just say this, 'The Lord needs it.'" So those who were sent departed and found it as he had told them. As they were untying the colt, its owners asked them, "Why are you untying the colt?" They said, "The Lord needs it." Then they brought it to Jesus; and after throwing their cloaks on the colt, they set Jesus on it. As he rode along, people kept spreading their cloaks on the road. As he was now approaching the path down from the Mount of Olives, the whole multitude of the disciples began to praise God joyfully with a loud voice for all the deeds of power that they had seen, saying, "Blessed is the king who comes in the name of the Lord! Peace in heaven, and glory in the highest heaven!" Some of the Pharisees in the crowd said to him, "Teacher, order your disciples to stop." He answered, "I tell you, if these were silent, the stones would shout out."

Gospeller The Word of the Lord.

People Thanks be to God.

BLESSING OF THE PALMS

On this day he entered the holy city of Jerusalem in triumph, and was proclaimed as King of kings by those who spread their garments and branches of palm along his way.

Bless, O Lord, + these branches. Let them be for us signs of his victory, and grant that we who bear them in his name may ever hail him as our King, and follow him in the way that leads to eternal life; who lives and reigns in glory with you and the Holy Spirit, now and for ever.

Celebrant The Lord be with you.

People And also with you.

Celebrant Let us pray.

Almighty and ever living God, in your tender love for the human race you sent your Son our Savior Jesus Christ to take upon him our nature, and to suffer death upon the cross, giving us the example of his great humility:
Mercifully grant that we may walk in the way of his suffering, and also share in his resurrection; through Jesus Christ our Lord, who lives and reigns with you and the Holy Spirit, one God, for ever and ever.

People Amen.

The Readings

READING 1 Isaiah 50: 4-9a

The Lord God has given me
the tongue of a teacher, that I may know how to sustain the weary with a word.
Morning by morning he wakens--wakens my ear to listen as those who are taught.
The Lord God has opened my ear,
and I was not rebellious,
I did not turn backward.
I gave my back to those who struck me,
and my cheeks to those who pulled out the beard;
I did not hide my face
from insult and spitting.
The Lord God helps me;
therefore I have not been disgraced;
therefore I have set my face like flint,
and I know that I shall not be put to shame;
he who vindicates me is near.
Who will contend with me?
Let us stand up together.
Who are my adversaries?
Let them confront me.
It is the Lord God who helps me;
who will declare me guilty?

PSALM 31.9-16

Choir 9 Have mercy on me, O Lord, for I am in trouble; *
my eye is consumed with sorrow, and also my throat and my belly.
10 For my life is wasted with grief, and my years with sighing; *
my strength fails me because of affliction, and my bones are consumed.
11 I have become a reproach to all my enemies and even to my neighbors, a dismay to those of my acquaintance; *
when they see me in the street they avoid me.
12 I am forgotten like a dead man, out of mind; *
I am as useless as a broken pot.
13 For I have heard the whispering of the crowd; fear is all around; *
they put their heads together against me; they plot to take my life.
14 But as for me, I have trusted in you, O Lord. *
I have said, "You are my God.
15 My times are in your hand; *
rescue me from the hand of my enemies,
and from those who persecute me.
16 Make your face to shine upon your servant, *
and in your loving-kindness save me."

Lector Let the same mind be in you that was in Christ Jesus, who, though he was in the form of God, did not regard equality with God
 as something to be exploited,
 but emptied himself,
 taking the form of a slave,
 being born in human likeness.
 And being found in human form,
 he humbled himself and became obedient to the point of death –
 even death on a cross.
 Therefore God also highly exalted him and gave him the name that is above every name, so that at the name of Jesus
 every knee should bend,
 in heaven and on earth and under the earth, and every tongue should confess that Jesus Christ is Lord, to the glory of God the Father.

NRSV

The Word of the Lord.

People Thanks be to God.

THE GOSPEL ACCLAMATION

Cantor Christ became obedient to the point of death, even death on a cross.
 Because of this, God greatly exalted him and bestowed on him the name which is above every name.

The Prayers of the People

Celebrant: As we near the end of Lent's forty-day journey of repentance and renewal, we bend our knees and confess with our tongues that Jesus Christ is Lord, to the glory of God the Father.

Leader: That the church, faithfully following the teaching and example of Christ, may sustain the weary with words of courage, righteousness and hope. Lord, in your mercy,

People: Hear our prayer.

Leader: That civil authorities may open their ears and listen to the voices that cry out for food and shelter, for refuge, dignity, equality and peace. Lord, in your mercy,

People: Hear our prayer.

Leader: That those who face insult and degradation because of race, religious belief, gender, sexual orientation or political conviction, may be supported by disciples of the Lord. Lord, in your mercy,

People: Hear our prayer.

Leader: For the sick and those who have asked our prayers That those who by their sufferings share in the passion of Christ may share fully in Christ's exaltation. Lord, in your mercy,

People: Hear our prayer.

Leader: That, as we celebrate Holy Week and the Triduum, we may empty ourselves as Christ Jesus did, serving in unselfish love. Lord, in your mercy,

People: Hear our prayer.

Celebrant: Take away our sin, Lord Christ, by your glorious passion, and mercifully hear our prayers, you who are our Passover and our Peace.

All: Amen.

ANTHEM Solus ad Victimam

Kenneth Leighton

Alone to sacrifice thou goest, Lord, giving thyself to Death whom thou hast slain. For us thy wretched folk is any word? Who know that for our sins this is thy pain? For they are ours, O Lord, our deeds, our deeds. Why must thou suffer torture for our sin? Let our hearts suffer in thy Passion, Lord, that very suffering may thy mercy win. This is the night of tears, the three days' space, sorrow abiding of the eventide, Until the day break with the risen Christ, and hearts that sorrowed shall be satisfied. So may our hearts share in thine anguish, Lord, that they may sharers of thy glory be; Heavy with weeping may the three days pass, to win the laughter of thine Easter Day.

THE COMMUNION OF THE PEOPLE

ANTHEM The Crown of Roses

Peter I. Tchaikovsky

*When Jesus Christ was yet a child he had a garden small and wild, wherein he cherished roses fair, and wove them into garlands there.
 Now once, as summertime drew nigh, there came a troop of children by,
 and seeing roses on the tree, with shouts they plucked them merrily.
 'Do you bind roses in your hair?' they cried in scorn, to Jesus there.
 The boy said humbly: 'Take, I pray, all but the naked thorns away.'
 Then of the thorns they made a crown, and with rough fingers pressed it down, till on his forehead fair and young red drops of blood like roses sprung.*

THE POST-COMMUNION PRAYER

Celebrant Let us pray.

All Almighty and everliving God, we thank you for feeding us with the spiritual food of the most precious Body and Blood of your Son our Savior Jesus Christ; and for assuring us in these holy mysteries that we are living members of the Body of your Son, and heirs of your eternal kingdom.
And now, Father, send us out to do the work you have given us to do, to love and serve you as faithful witnesses of Christ our Lord.
To him, to you, and to the Holy Spirit,
be honor and glory, now and for ever. Amen.

As our service concludes with Prayer of Saint Gregory by Alan Hovhaness, we invite you to be seated and to reflect on the words of Christ as he offers his life in love for ours. Please leave in silence following this time of musical meditation so this moment may stay with us and inform our week.

“No one has greater love than this, to lay down one’s life for one’s friends.” -John 15:13.

“As they were gathering* in Galilee, Jesus said to them, ‘The Son of Man is going to be betrayed into human hands, and they will kill him, and on the third day he will be raised.’” -Matthew 17:22-23.

“Do not let your hearts be troubled. Believe in God, believe also in me. In my Father’s house there are many dwelling places. If it were not so, would I have told you that I go to prepare a place for you? And if I go and prepare a place for you, I will come again and will take you to myself, so that where I am, there you may be also.” -John 14:1-3.

Jesus answered, ‘My kingdom is not from this world.’ -John 18:36.

“I am the light of the world.” -John 9:5

“This is my commandment, that you love one another as I have loved you.” -John 15:12

“Jesus said to her, ‘I am the resurrection and the life.* Those who believe in me, even though they die, will live, and everyone who lives and believes in me will never die. Do you believe this?’” -John 11:25-26

Almighty God, whose dear Son went not up to joy but first he suffered pain, and entered not into glory before he was crucified: Mercifully grant that we, walking in the way of the cross, may find it none other than the way of life and peace; through Jesus Christ your Son our Lord, who lives and reigns with you and the Holy Spirit, one God, for ever and ever. Amen.

Liturgy Notes – The Easter Triduum

Lent officially ends at dusk on Maundy Thursday, with Evening Prayer and the Solemn Celebration of the Lord's Supper. The liturgical color changes at the same time, from the red of Holy Week to white, and thus begins the Easter Triduum, the three days that mark the Passion, Death and Resurrection of Jesus. The time span is reckoned after the Jewish custom of counting a day from sunset to sunset, and so technically the Last Supper and Jesus' Passion and Death both occur on the same day, Friday; Saturday is completely still and silent and uneventful, and then the day of Resurrection begins with the Great Vigil on Saturday evening.

Although we speak of three distinct celebrations taking place during this time – Maundy Thursday, the solemn ceremonies of Good Friday, and the Great Vigil on Saturday evening – the church considers there is only one liturgy, celebrated in three stages, that begins on Thursday and concludes Saturday night. This is why there is no dismissal (“Go in peace ...”) at the end of Maundy Thursday or Good Friday, but people simply leave in silence. For the same reason, the liturgies of Good Friday and the Great Vigil do not begin with the customary “Blessed be God ...” accompanied by the sign of the Cross, but with the priest addressing the people, picking up, as it were, where we all left off the previous day.

There is a profoundly important reason for this, of course: the ceremonies cannot really be separated because the events they commemorate cannot be understood in isolation from one another. At the Last Supper, Jesus said, “This is my body which is given for you,” “This is my blood ... which is shed for you” – these words cannot be comprehended apart from Calvary. And Calvary, similarly, cannot be separated from the Resurrection: all the elements of the Christian story are interdependent. Each day reveals another aspect of our salvation.

While we don't spend the entire three days in church, we are asked to allow the spirit of these days to permeate our homes and our lives, making of them a time of relative silence and stillness and reflection. No other liturgies are permitted during the Triduum: no weddings, no funerals, not even confessions are supposed to be heard, although the rules are often overlooked. Not even the Eucharist is celebrated after Maundy Thursday, until the Great Vigil of Easter: although Holy Communion may be distributed as part of the Good Friday liturgy, it is always taken from the reserved Sacrament.

Many of the elements of the Triduum are only seen once a year – the washing of the feet, the procession of the Sacrament to the altar of repose and stripping of the altar, the veneration of the Cross, the paschal fire and the service of light, the singing of the Exultet and the ringing of bells at the Easter Gloria.

These days cover the gamut of liturgical expression, from somber starkness to warm exuberance, just as they cover the gamut of human emotions. As we watch Jesus move from celebrating with friends to abandonment and torture, through death and silence and separation to a new way of living and relating, we are invited to reflect on our own journey, where we have come from, and what lies ahead.
